Safety Toolbox Talks

Are they important?

Toolbox talks are important for sure. These small health and safety training moments gives your employees a chance to review important safety measures, how to recognize and avoid hazards in the workplace.

What is Safelyio?

Toolbox Talk Automation

Safelyio makes it easy for safety managers, supervisors and safety professionals to schedule toolbox talks that are sent to employees. The software tracks employees completion and stores the information at the clients finger tips.

How Safelyio Can Improve Employee Safety

IMPROVED COMMUNICATION

Your employees will become more engaged and safety conscious as they can digest content easily which can video or text format. Consistent safety talks have been proven to reduce workplace injuries and accidents.

Remote Learning

Online Training for Employees

Safelyio lets you send safety topics (e.g. Toolbox Talks, Safety Policy Updates, etc.) to your employees via email.

Covid-19 has made safety group meetings more difficult due to the requirements for social distancing. With Safelyio, you can easily distribute toolbox talks to employees without compromising their health.

Productivity

With Safelyio, supervisors can deliver safety content to employees seamlessly. Employees can complete and acknowledge their training at any time enabling supervisors to leverage productivity while still educating employees about critical safety protocols.

Improves overall safety

Safelyio helps your company to deliver consistent safety content to your teams from one central portal. Additionally, employee training documentation is always at the supervisor's fingertips should they be needed
